HELD OUTING.

Saturday afternoon an enjoyable outing was held by the employees of the Methuen and Pemberton company's mills at Draichen's grove. It was the second outing held this season by these two mills and great rivalry was manifested on both sides, as to the outcome of the sports. The Methuen boys placed confidence in their ball team but were defeated. The Pemberton team got the best of the sports. The only prize captured by Methuen was that won by Gaunt in the three-legged race which he ran alone. The affair proved most successful. Although Methuen was outclassed, they still hope to redeem their lost prestige on some future occasion.

The lineup of the ball teams follows:

FAREWELL PARTY.

Miss Alice Seed of 3 Malson court, who is to sail August 1 on the S. S. Ivernia, was tendered a farewell party at her home Saturday evening by a number of her friends. She was presented with a handsome dress suit case, Miss Jackson making the presentation speech.

The evening was pleasantly passed with various social diversions. A "donkey" contest was held, the prizes being won by Kittle Craven and Harry Morris.

An informal entertainment, consisting of piano selections, singing and speaking was given and greatly enjoyed.

Refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake, frozen pudding, berries and candies were served.

The party broke up at a seasonable hour, all wishing Miss Seed a pleasant voyage and a safe return.

BURGLAR CAPTURED.

Joseph P. Murphy, a farmhand employed by George C. Adams in the Marsh district, was placed under arrest Tuesday afternoon by Patrolman Gordon and Chief of Police Jones for breaking and entering and has confessed to having made all five of the recent breaks in town.

The break Tuesday morning was at the drug store of Frederick & Bower in Railroad square and must have been made after 3 o'clock, as Patrolman Gordon made an examination of the place about 10 minutes before that time and found everything all right.

The other breaks of recent occurrence were June 16, at the office of Tapley & Moore, wood and coal dealers; June 19, at H. A. Merrill's grocery, where the thief secured about $20 from an open safe, and a few cigarettes; June 23, at Gordon & Wilkie's meat market; June 24, in the early morning, at the Boston & Maine railroad station. At all of these places, except Merrill's grocery store, the burglar's efforts were fruitless, and no clue was left at any of them by which the thieves could be traced until the break at Frederick & Bower's.

The officers learned that Murphy had several bottles of Moxie and a number of cigars which he was distributing to his friends, and immediately concluded that he might know something of the burglary. When they went to Mr. Adams' farm to investigate, Murphy saw and recognized them and started to escape by running through the woods but he was pursued and captured by Patrolman Gordon. When caught he had a loaded revolver. The goods were found in the woods in a dress suit case.

But little is known of Murphy's antecedents, though he admits to having served a term in Concord for stealing furs. He hails from Boston and had been employed by Mr. Adams for about three months.

He had completed his work there, however, and was paid off Tuesday by Mr. Adams. He was preparing to leave when the officers appeared on the scene.

Murphy was arraigned before Judge Rogers today.

He pleaded guilty to each of the six charges against him, and was held in $500 bonds on each count for the grand jury. In default of bonds he was committed.

FUNERAL OF MRS. CARLETON.

The funeral services for Mrs. Margaret A. Carleton, wife of George N. Carleton, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family home corner Barker and Pelham streets, the Rev. Charles H. Oliphant, pastor of the Congregational church of which the deceased was a member conducting the services, which were private, only relatives being present.

The body was encased in a handsome black cloth casket, silver trimmed. There were many beautiful floral tokens, including the following: Pillow from family; wreath from four sisters; wreath, J. W. Halstead and family of Lowell; spray, William Halstead and family of Lowell; spray, Louis B. Garland and family of Worcester; spray, Mrs. H. N. Coburn; wreath, C. W. Davis and family of Beverly; spray, Miss Walker of Lowell, and others.

Among the out of town relatives present were: Mrs. Garland and Miss Garland of Worcester; Mrs. Dean of Everett; Miss Halstead of Everett; Mrs. Clarke of Boston; Miss Halstead of Hartford, Ct.; James Halstead and family of Lowell; William Halstead and family of Lowell; George Halstead of Lowell; John Halstead of New Brunswick, N. J.; Fred Carleton and family of Rowley; Mrs. Davis and daughter of Beverly.

Interment took place in Elmwood cemetery in the west part of the town. The pall bearers were: William, George, James and John Halstead, brothers of the deceased.

PEDORA WAWS BOUND OVER.

Antonio Pedora, charged with stabbing Frank Folk in the back, at the Lake View farm in North Andover on the night of May 21 and arrested by Chief of Police George H. Mizen on July 18, was arraigned in police court in the suburban town before Judge N. P. Free on Tuesday afternoon.

C. J. Mahoney, of the firm of Mahoney and Mahoney of Lawrence, appeared for the defendant, Joseph Mantell of this city served as interpreter.

Pedora was found probably guilty and held in $400 bonds for the September term of the superior court. Surety was furnished and Pedora released.

EVERETT 75: EAST INDIA 75.

Everett and East India played a tie game Saturday. The score was 75 to 75.

SHE WAS REVENGED.

"The fad of tracing one's ancestors back as far as possible has a firmer hold in the east than in the west," said Mortimer E. Walker of Boston. "One winter I spent some time in a certain southern city which is noted for its blueblooded and exclusive inhabitants. There was much jealousy in the highest social circles, as there was nothing to run over anywhere or in any direction, barring the Atlantic ocean, and inasmuch as the most robust racing car ever constructed would be stumped to do more than 2 miles an hour when it struck Nantucket sand, the joke concealed in this ruling is not obscure.—Providence Journal.

CHOOSE YOUR FLOWER.

There are certain flowers that certain people ought to wear either in their natural or artificial guise. It is all a matter of years and height. Daisies belong only to youth. Banksia roses are for the debutante. Lilacs can only be well worn by a tall figure. Violets are charming for either youth or age.

Crocuses are pretty for the young; tulips are not. Lilies of the valley are for youth or middle age.

Thistles are for the elderly woman with white hair. Neither are poppies for the petite, nor things that grow in branch form.

Pansies seem fitted for riper age, though the pansy-eyed girl looks well in them.

Mignonette does not belong to youth, nor do sweet peas and daffodils belong to age.

Chrysanthemums look well on youth or maturity, but do not seem to belong to age.

Roses belong to all ages, but need to be chosen with care as to their color and size.

Snowdrops that would look foolish on a middle-aged woman look sweet on a young debutante.

NANTUCKET'S SPEED LIMIT.

Every visitor to Nantucket knows that the natives of that island have fully developed their sense of humor, even if they have done little else, since they gave over going down to the sea in ships in quest of big fish.

They have no end of fun with summer boarders and tourists seeking "art-themes" from Newark factories and people in general from the mainland, concerning whom they entertain no very lofty opinion when they are discussing matters among themselves during the long frozen in winter months.

Just now they are devoting their attention to automobile owners. It has pleased the Nantucket selectmen to restrict the speed of the "honkers" to 4 miles an hour in town and 8 miles an hour outside.

Inasmuch as it is impossible to determine where the town ends and the outside begins, and inasmuch as there is nothing to run over anywhere or in any direction, barring the Atlantic ocean, and inasmuch as the most robust racing car ever constructed would be stumped to do more than 2 miles an hour when it struck Nantucket sand, the joke concealed in this ruling is not obscure.—Providence Journal.

SO WOULD I.

"Where are you going for your vacation?" "I don't know, but I'll tell you what."

"Well, what?" "If I knew of a place where the bathing costumes are like those we see in a comic opera I'd go there."—Louisville Courier-Journal

MOTOR ARRESTS BY WIRE.

The officials of Sandwich, down on the cape, have held up 60 automobiles in a fortnight for having exceeded the speed limit of 10 miles an hour while passing through the village. This policy has aroused violent complaint, and the matter was carried to the Massachusetts highway commission for redress. Members of the board thereupon went to Sandwich and investigated. They found that the village authorities had rigged up a wire apparatus with a bell attachment by which the signal of too great speed was given. It was all found to be in apple pie order and very effective. Therefore the Sandwich plan was endorsed by Messrs. Parker and McClintock of the highway commission and the automobilists will have to mind their p's and q's if they would escape a fine.—Springfield Republican.

KEEPING TAB ON THE WORLD

Insurance Inquisition Called For by Governor Higgins After Hooker Escapes Removal—Root Urges That Weaver Prosecute Philadelphia Ringsters Who Masquerade as Republicans—President Denounces Holmes—Zemstvo Congress Adopts Constitution. Bennington Blown Up.

POLITICAL

Hooker Not Removed.

The New York state legislature voted, July 20, 76 to 67 in favor of removing Warren B. Hooker as justice of the state supreme court on charges of corrupt and unbecoming conduct. As it required a majority of two-thirds, or 100 votes, for removal, the accused justice will be allowed to remain on the bench. Of those against removal, 58 were Republicans, and not one claimed that the charges against Hooker were untrue. They took the ground that the charges had not been proved legally and that Hooker was no worse than many others and should not be singled out for punishment.

Would Arrest Gang Leaders.

Upon retiring as counsel for Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia, Elihu Root gave his opinion in writing that it was the duty of the mayor, in view of District Attorney Bell's refusal to proceed with prosecutions against a number of powerful and important persons in the city, to bring the facts to the knowledge of the officer who is elected to prosecute crimes. Mr. Root advises that the law permits the mayor to prosecute up to the point where the return of the committing magistrate is given into the hands of the district attorney.

In this connection, the great attorney and secretary of state, who is now a national leader in the Republican party, says that crimes committed by men who have political power are often sheltered behind official indifference and inactivity and some one has then to do more than his duty to secure justice, adding that "there is more at stake here than the mere punishment of isolated offences. There is the question whether your city shall continue to be governed by criminals or shall take its place on the list of American cities capable of honest self government." In conclusion, he expresses his desire "that the city of Philadelphia, whose history and good name are so dear to every American, shall be purged from the stain which a corrupt and criminal combination masquerading under the name of Republicans has put upon her."

The mayor was preparing to act accordingly when a serious accident occurred to District Attorney Bell, whose leg was broken in the fall of an elevator in the Land Title building. Judge Gordon said that no arrests would be made for several weeks, as it was their desire to have Mr. Bell's active co-operation. It was pointed out that this would cause no loss of advantage, as in any event the cases could not be tried until fall.

Julien T. Davies, head of the New York firm of Davies, Stone & Averbach, on recommendation of Mr. Root has been retained to act as assistant counsel with Judge Gordon for Mayor Weaver. A new point in the campaign of reform was the arrest of five election officers charged with fraud on complaint of the committee of seventy. The officers are charged with stuffing ballot boxes and falsifying returns.

State to Investigate Insurance.

On recommendation of Governor Higgins to the extra session of the New York legislature, it was decided to appoint a joint legislative committee to investigate the operations of life insurance companies and especially the Equitable. This committee will consist of Senators Armstrong, Kelly and Riordan and five assemblymen.

EXECUTIVE

Hyde Out; Hays In Charge.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson accepted the resignation of John Hyde, chief statistician, July 18. In his letter Mr. Hyde points to his record of vindication in five investigations, but says that the fight made upon him has told upon his health and that he does not think the position is worth the sacrifice.

On the suggestion of President Roosevelt, Secretary Wilson placed Assistant Secretary Willet N. Hays in charge of the statistical bureau, with unlimited authority. Wilson says that hereafter all charges must be aimed at himself or Mr. Hays, as no one else will have a chance of getting at the figures. Mr. Hays was professor of agriculture in the University of Minnesota for fifteen years and is an expert in plant breeding.

Secretary Root Sworn In.

Elihu Root took the oath of office as secretary of state July 19. Secretary Root returned to New York, not expecting to return until September. E. J. Babcock, who has been secretary to the secretary of state under Sherman, Day and Hay, is retained by Root.

Shonts and Stevens Sail.

Theodore P. Shonts, chairman of the Panama canal commission; John Stevens, chief engineer, and Messrs. Nazro and Moffett, the welfare workers, sailed from New York July 20 on the Mexico for Colon. Mr. Shonts will return in time to report on the present conditions to the advisory board in September. Mr. Shonts said it was not yet decided what kind of a canal they would build; that it would take ten or twelve years for a sea level and five years for a lock canal. Before sailing Mr. Stevens said he expected to make Panama his home until the canal was completed.

Consular Magazine Out.

Following the suggestion of the president, Secretary Metcalf, of the department of commerce and labor, has caused to be published the "Daily Consular and Trade Reports" as a magazine of commercial information, instead of the chance consular reports heretofore published. The first issue of this new daily magazine appeared July 17. It contains information from special agents and newspaper writers, and has a regular editorial page. By having the matter printed on both sides of the paper 1,500 reams of paper are saved in one year. The new paper will be edited by Major John M. Carson, the former Washington correspondent.

President Denounces Holmes.

In a letter to Attorney General Moody, dated July 12, President Roosevelt hoped that every effort would be made to bring to justice Edwin S. Holmes, the dismissed official of the statistical bureau, for connection with the cotton report scandals and took strong ground by saying, "The man is, in my judgment, a far greater scoundrel than if he had stolen money from the government, as he used the government money to deceive outsiders and to make money for himself and others."

Attorney General Moody replied that the case was receiving immediate attention. Mr. Holmes has taken legal advice.

Coolidge to Succeed Ridgley.

It was understood that President Roosevelt had decided to appoint Louis A. Coolidge, the well known Washington correspondent and head of the Republican literary bureau, to succeed William B. Ridgley as comptroller of the currency.

Body of Paul Jones Here.

Admiral Sigbee's fleet arrived off the Chesapeake capes July 22 bearing the body of Paul Jones to this country from France. The north Atlantic battleship squadron, in two divisions under Admirals Evans and Davis, went to sea to meet the fleet bearing the body, and the combined fleets formed an escort to Annapolis, where the interment was to take place with full naval honors.

LEGAL-CRIMINAL

Hearst's Editor Prosecuted.

On complaint of Comptroller Groat of New York city, action for libel was brought against the American and Evening Journal, the Hearst papers in that city, and at the same time a criminal action against Arthur Brisbane, the chief editorial writer for the Evening Journal, on account of recent articles reflecting on the integrity of the comptroller in connection with the purchase of a Brooklyn theater property by the city. The hearing of the case was put over until Sept. 14.

Arkansas Antitrust Law Valid.

The supreme court of Arkansas has sustained the antitrust law enacted by the last legislature, two judges dissenting. The case was brought by the Hartford Fire Insurance company to test the rate fixing and penalty clauses, as the law prohibits fire insurance companies from doing business in Arkansas. The fine of $5,000 is imposed for each day's business in violation of the law, and penalties aggregating more than $350,000 have been piled up against the Hartford Fire Insurance company. An effort will now be made to get the case into federal courts.

Disputes Ziegler's Will.

E. Mathilda Ziegler, widow of the late William Ziegler, who left the bulk of his great fortune, made in the baking powder business, to his adopted son William, has brought action to have the validity of the will determined. The complaint contains the usual allegation that the testator was not in sound mind at the time of signing the will. The widow received an income of $50,000 a year, besides both the New York and Connecticut homes.

House Burners Organized.

The confession of Samuel Levine, who was arrested at New York last week for attempting to set fire to a tenement house and who subsequently tried to commit suicide by jumping from the fifth story window of police headquarters, reveals to the authorities an organized gang of firebugs, ready to burn houses for a small bribe. The presumed object of those employing the gang is to secure the fire insurance money.

Slave Girl Held For Murder.

The case of Berthe Claiche, the French girl who had her master arrested in New York and then shot him while in the hands of the police, is attracting an unusual amount of attention. At the coroner's inquest over the body of the dead man, Gerdron, it was shown that the young woman had been enticed from her home in France on a promise of marriage and then brought to New York to support her master by a life of shame. Witnesses also testified that Gerdron had threatened the girl's life. Nevertheless she was held and later was indicted for murder in the first degree. When arraigned she made the plea of not guilty.

FOREIGN

A Constitution For Russia.

The assembling of the congress of zemstvos at Moscow on July 19 was brought about in spite of the government's strict prohibition amid rumors of a coup d'etat to depose the czar and substitute some constitutional form of government. The congress got down to business in the private residence of Prince Dolgorikoff, with 225 delegates present. This included some from the municipal assemblies known as the Dumas, as well as from the provincial assemblies or zemstvos. The chief of police, with numerous officers, entered and announced that the meeting was prohibited, ordering documents seized. When the chief began taking names of the delegates some one cried, "Write down the whole of Russia!" After the police departed the session was resumed. The plan of a national assembly proposed by Minister Boulogne was denounced and a constitution based on the British model was favorably discussed.

A form of constitution was finally adopted by a vote of 220 to 7, subject to the approval of the local and provincial assemblies. The proposal to petition the czar was rejected. M. Petrunkevitch said: "We counted on reforms from above. We appealed to the emperor vainly. We now appeal to the people."

Premier Balfour Voted Down.

A conservative government, headed by Premier Balfour, was defeated in the house of commons July 20 on an amendment offered by Leader Redmond of the Irish party representing the Irish land commission. The vote stood 100 for the amendment to 100 against it. Thereupon the liberals and Irish members cheered and shouted, "Resign! Resign!" The prime minister, replying to the challenge of the opposition, said a statement would be made in due time.

Bomb For Turkish Sultan.

As Sultan Abdul Hamid of Turkey was leaving the mosque at Constantinople, July 21, a bomb burst near him, causing the death of forty of his subjects, but leaving him unharmed.

Redistribution Bill Recalled.

The redistribution of parliamentary seats proposed by Premier Balfour caused intense bitterness on the part of the Irish members, as it would result in a loss of twenty-two Irish seats, while England would gain seventeen, Wales one and Scotland four. The Irishmen regarded it as a breach of the act of union, and when the speaker of the house agreed to the contention of the Irish leader, Redmond, that each clause of the bill should be debated separately Mr. Balfour withdrew the bill for lack of time during the present session.

Oscar In Forgiving Mood.

A German newspaper published an interview with King Oscar of Sweden in which he said he had forgiven Norway and that Sweden would hang a millstone around its neck "if it upheld the union by force and initiated the military occupation of Norway."

Panama's National Theater.

Plans for the construction of an elaborate palace and national theater for the government of Panama at its capital city have been prepared by G. M. Ruger of Washington, and proposals for construction have been advertised. Extra precautions are taken against corruption and graft in this public work.

South Sakhalin Occupied.

It has been officially announced at Tokyo that the Japanese force in the island of Sakhalin, after meeting with some resistance at Darline, has occupied the whole south of the island. The rainy season has begun in Manchuria, and this prevents extensive operations.

INDUSTRIAL

To Electrify the Lake Shore.

The recent visit of W. K. Vanderbilt to points on the Lake Shore railroad was in reference to the installation of an electric service on the Detroit and Toledo division of that line. This plan is to be put into operation at once, confining it to the freight business at first. It is found impossible to compete with the electric lines for short hauls.

Kansas' Great Wheat Crop.

A record-breaking crop of wheat is reported from Kansas since the threshing begun. In many cases the wheat crop is said to be worth three or four times the present value of the land, and Santa Fe officials estimate the state's yield at over 80,000,000 bushels.

FASHION'S FANCIES.

Broderie Anglaise reigns triumphant this summer.

And Irish lace is still in high favor for blouses and for those stunning boleros.

Voluminous cloaks are more fashionable than ever, both for day and evening wear. Linen tailor costumes—as thoroughly tailored and as severe, some of them as the severest of the cloth suits—grow more and more popular.

Parasols of an idea brought out in Eugene's time. An occasional parasol is of the combination of heavy and light Irish laces that was so daring a trick of fashion as applied to dress this year. But nobody ever dreamed it would reach parasols.

Embroidered linens, mousselines of every sort, batistes, and a score of sheer, exquisite materials, some characterized by odd, unusual weaves, some by a soft, filmy quality—every sort of white summer stuff is seen, made up into frocks that would be rich were it not that the summery effect of so much airy stuff, ruffles and trimmed exquisitely, lifts it above the class of the simply rich into that of absolute daintiness.

Wide tulle bangs are everywhere. Filmy, delicate, elaborately embroidered stuffs are the order of the day.

Most of the linen gowns are loaded down with exquisite embroideries and precious laces.

In parasols the newest thing is to have blouse and parasol embroidered to match. Delicate-looking blouses—all exquisite embroidery and the sheers of laces—have parasols made of the same sheer, open stuffs. Of course, they're utterly useless as sunshades, but make charming frames for the costume.

Venetian lace is extravagantly used in insertions, in squares and all round the skirts of dresses. This treatment is especially rich when outlined with open work.

And hats—there never were so many radical changes. It's as if the whole world millinery were in a state of upheaval. Big hats appear here and there—half samaras before the tiny, tip-titled things we've grown accustomed to and liked for their saucy little style.

A new brown is around town—brilliant in comparison with the rather feeble color we usually mean by brown. It is especially swamped in the horsehair hats, as the ruddy tint in it takes the light best in horsehair.

WANTS TO REFORM SCHOOLS.

Mrs. Emma Hahn, a wealthy woman, has announced that she is a candidate for election as member of the school board. Mrs. Hahn believes there is too little industrial and too much "fancy education" in the public schools of Andover.

She says that the great mass of unemployed are college bred and that they are the backbone of the socialistic movement. She believes higher education should be limited, that girls should be taught sewing and boys use of the plane and rule if the mass of unemployed is to be diminished. She wants a chance to put her theories into practice.

Mrs. Hahn came here from Newark four years ago. Her husband was a practicing physician there. She owns an interest in an 80-mile Angola goat ranch in Texas. In Newark she was president of the Woman's Civic club and of the Clio club. She belongs to a number of women's clubs in New York.

Some time ago she wrote to a New York paper to the effect that the country was suffering for men to do manual labor. She was swamped by applications for work. She says 500 men applied and about all were incompetent to do farm work, although a large percentage could do problems in geometry and could read Virgil and Homer.

MOST TELEPHONED CITY IN THE WORLD.

From Cent per Cent.

No country in the world has so much capital invested in the telephone as America, and yet even America has not begun to make the telephone so thoroughly a part of its daily life as has Sweden.

The government owns the system and leases the service to the people at prices so low that practically every home has its private phone. In addition to this, the public service is so thoroughly accessible that it is cheaper than writing.

In Stockholm, for instance, there is a public telephone at almost every street corner, and before every restaurant, hotel, place of amusement, cab stand, etc.

Besides these there are hundreds of closed pavilions, made of glass, upon the tops of which are the city lights. They open automatically by the insertion of a coin, which also pays for the service, and are available at any hour of the day or night. In these things Sweden is not eccentric, but simply advanced.

Every city in America will yet follow her example. Public telephones will yet become as necessary and as abundant as letter-boxes. It would almost stagger the brain to appraise the millions of dollars which will yet be demanded in the development of the telephone in our own land.

MUNICIPAL STARS.

Sir Henry Irving has caused some merriment in old England by prophesying that Manchester will yet have a municipal theater with a lord mayor for its actor.

They feel differently about it in Australia, where the Hon. George Coppin sat for twenty years in the Victorian Parliament, though he has Australia's most popular comedian and acknowledged "Father of the Australian Stage."

His parliamentary colleague, Morton King, the Colony's great tragedian, once was sent for in a crisis to form a new government. King once took the part of Hamlet in a benefit performance for the Melbourne Hospital, in which every male character was acted by a member of Parliament.

Transfers in Andover.

As promised last week, we publish today the official information regarding transfers within the town limits. It will be readily seen by our readers that it is a clear and simple plan, and one with which the conductors ought to be so familiar that there would never be any misunderstandings regarding them. But this isn't the case by a great deal. It is more nearly the condition that hardly any two of the conductors agree in the application of the rules, and that very few of them take any pains to inform their passengers regarding them. For example, the writer has repeatedly asked for a transfer from Wilson's Corner to Andover, only to be told that transfers were not given, yet Supt. Bruce says that a payment of fare on the Salem line after the car leaves Farnum's turnout entitles the passenger to a transfer to Andover Square. Again, the writer knows of several cases where transfers between the Haverhill line and the main line have been refused under conditions identical with those described by the superintendent as justifying transfers. It looks very much as if the superintendent might profitably set up a "school of instruction in transfers," and teach his conductors just what the public is entitled to. And while such a school is in session, we would suggest that several other topics be considered. For example, why wouldn't it be an excellent idea to instruct the wearers of brass buttons that it would pay to give all concessions like transfers freely and ungrudgingly? To ask for a transfer from some of our more officious car officials is to run the risk of feeling like a beggar asking for a glass of water. Again, why not direct conductors to announce at each fare collection just what the fare entitles the passenger to? It would be good advertising if nothing else. We have long felt that the transfer privileges in Andover were fewer than they should be, and that there are several places where they should be extended. Probably such extension is more difficult to secure with each added year of increased cost in maintaining the railway. In many communities the roads are curtailing transfer privileges, and there is a growing friction on this account between the roads and the towns. If Andover cannot get any more, certainly she should have the full benefit of what now rightfully belongs to her. We trust that the information published this week will enable our citizens to secure their rights as they are now established, even if no further concessions are secured. Certainly the other concessions (if they may be called such) touched upon here as larger co-operation in service by the conductors ought to be secured without any trouble.

There is complaint again about the exhaust pipe from the pumping engines at Haggetts. It seems that this pipe runs into the pond, and as is well known it carries not only steam but a goodly amount of oil. At several different times in the past ten years complaint has been made about the oil and grease exhausting into the pond, and in response to such complaints the water officials have given assurance that things would be changed. Notwithstanding such assurance, it is reported upon the best of authority that oil is still apparent upon the troubled waters at different times, and as a specific complaint last week is cited as a particularly noticeable time when the surface of Haggetts was well greased. We presume that there is no danger to come to health from this trouble complained of, but it isn't a particularly desirable addition to the town's drinking water to have it made even to a slight degree into a modified dose of castor oil. We are confident that to have the matter brought to the attention of the water officials is to assure a remedy.

At several different times in the past ten years complaint has been made about the oil and grease exhausting into the pond, and in response to such complaints the water officials have given assurance that things would be changed. Notwithstanding such assurance, it is reported upon the best of authority that oil is still apparent upon the troubled waters at different times, and as a specific complaint last week is cited as a particularly noticeable time when the surface of Haggetts was well greased. We presume that there is no danger to come to health from this trouble complained of, but it isn't a particularly desirable addition to the town's drinking water to have it made even to a slight degree into a modified dose of castor oil. We are confident that to have the matter brought to the attention of the water officials is to assure a remedy.

That Exhaust Pipe in Haggetts.

There is complaint again about the exhaust pipe from the pumping engines at Haggetts. It seems that this pipe runs into the pond, and as is well known it carries not only steam but a goodly amount of oil. At several different times in the past ten years complaint has been made about the oil and grease exhausting into the pond, and in response to such complaints the water officials have given assurance that things would be changed. Notwithstanding such assurance, it is reported upon the best of authority that oil is still apparent upon the troubled waters at different times, and as a specific complaint last week is cited as a particularly noticeable time when the surface of Haggetts was well greased. Editorial Cinders.

After long and weary search, with much expenditure of money, and still more fruitless exploitation of all the "wet lands" in Lawrence, the water officials in our neighboring city are becoming convinced that they must do what the State Board of Health long ago told them to do regarding their increased water supply. Fewer men with "schemes", and more men with the real interests of the city at heart, would be of great advantage to the busy city on the Merrimack.

We welcome our latest contemporary, the "Play School Chronicle". May it stand ever loyal to civic righteousness and a love of nature, two of the greatest lessons its sponsors are teaching these summer days.

And now "it's so cool, the corn won't grow." What kickers we are!

THE TRANSFER PROBLEM

Rules Regarding Transfers Explained by Supt. Bruce of Local Division

As announced in last week's Townsman, we publish this week the official orders regarding the issue of transfers by the Boston & Northern street railway company.

A person boarding a Haverhill and Andover car bound for Andover, within the limits of the town, is entitled to a transfer good as far south as the Andover-North Reading line or as far north as the Andover-Lawrence line. In other words a person may be carried from one point in Andover on one line, to any other point in Andover on another line for 5 cents.

A transfer issued to a passenger bound for Salem, on a Haverhill car is in reality of no use to the holder as the full fare which is 25 cents is collected regardless of the transfer. The fare from the transfer station in Lawrence is the same so that an extra collection is made from the local passengers, one of these being for the transfer. The transfer is good as far as Farnum's Corner in North Andover to persons going only to this point or less. On the return trip a collection is made between Farnum's Corner and Wilson's Corner when a transfer is issued good to Andover Square.

A passenger boarding a car south of the terminal on Main street may ride to the Lawrence-Andover line for one fare. If he is a through passenger a second fare will be collected.

In an interview with Superintendent Bruce of the Lawrence division of the Boston & Northern street railway company, he said that many people were deceived in the belief that but one fare could be collected in a town. This, he said, was a great mistake; the collecting points are set for the convenience of the conductors and not by law. If a fare is placed at a certain amount from one town to another, the full amount may be collected from a through passenger at either end. The single fare scheme is maintained for convenience.

Increase in Delegates.

The quarterly meeting of the Essex county association, Sons of Veterans, was held in the hall of Walter L. Raymond camp, last Friday evening. There were about 110 present, representing camps in Lynn, Salem, Peabody, Danvers, Beverly, Manchester, and Magalloway.

The principal business was the adoption of a new constitution. This was unanimously adopted. It varies little from the one previously existing, the only radical change being in the matter of representation at the annual meeting of the association. The rule formerly was that three delegates were eligible. The new clause follows:

Section 1. Each camp shall be entitled to send one delegate for every ten members, or major fraction thereof, in good standing; provided, that all camps shall have at least three delegates. These delegates, together with all sitting officers of the association, shall be entitled to vote upon matters of business.

Senior Vice Division Commander Frank Kirch-Gassner, of Jamaica Plain, made an eloquent speech on the work of the association, instilling new enthusiasm in the members.

After the meeting, a smoke talk was held and refreshments served. Among the officers present were: Pres. E. P. Towle of Salem, Vice-Pres. E. W. Baker of Manchester, Sec. George L. Bray of Lynn, W. W. Gardner of Beverly, B. E. Thompson of Lynn, and Chief Aid Penny of Lynn.

The meeting was held here for the purpose of creating a new interest in the local camp. The reception committee consisted of Isaac Cortright, Harry Flint and Cutter Foster.

Lawn Party Successful.

A pleasant lawn party was held at the home of Miss Alice Coutts on Maple avenue last Friday evening, under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Free church. Ice cream and punch were sold to a large crowd who were present during the evening.

The lawn was very prettily decorated with about 100 Japanese lanterns strung between the trees and on the tennis court. The proceeds of the sale will go into the treasury of the society. A photograph, ably handled by William C. Brown, furnished music during the evening.

The committee in charge consisted of Miss Coutts, Miss Jean Gordon, Charles Riddoch, and William Wylie. Misses Bertha Coutts, Elizabeth Gordon, Flora Lindsay, Fannie Angus and Marion Saunders assisted at the ice cream tables.

To Explore in Europe.

Prof. and Mrs. G. Frederick Wright sail from Montreal, August 5, on the "Canada" of the Dominion Line. Professor Wright hopes to make an expedition to southern Russia, and the north end of the Red Sea, to complete the investigations begun by him in 1900 and 1901, the object of which was to determine the physiographic changes which have taken place in comparatively recent times in the regions earliest occupied by man, and to ascertain the influence these have had upon the history of the human race.

This expedition is made possible by a special fund presented him as President of the Records of the Past Exploration Society for this particular work.

Successful Fishing Party

The fishing party conducted by Thomas Bentley from Marblehead on Saturday was as usual a successful event. There were not as many fish caught as usual, but from a social point of view it was a good trip.

The only disagreeable feature was the waiting for the boat over night, the skipper having been unable to make the harbor at the scheduled time. The men laid around the wharf and waited until 6 o'clock on Saturday morning, when the boat arrived.

The prizes were awarded as follows: For the largest fish, Joshua Hilton, $3.50; for the most fish, Edward Moran, $2.50; for the smallest fish, John Hurley, $1.50.

Among those who enjoyed the trip were: Frank K. Dodge, Chester Harnden, Lewis T. Hardy, W. S. Bentley, Fred Rogers, Ralph Manning, Jonathan K. Hilton, Henry Hilton, Edward Manning, Roy Snow, Charles Donovan, Alexander Lindsay, Harold Reed, Edward Moran, Lester Hilton, John Hurley, Maurice Holt, J. J. Pitman, William M. Obituaries.

MRS. ANNA (CLEMENT) BERRY.

Mrs. Anna (Clement) Berry, wife of J. Warren Berry, died suddenly at her home on Chestnut street Monday evening, shortly after 8 o'clock.

Her death was caused by heart failure and the sudden way in which she was taken makes the blow all the more severe to those who are left to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Berry had retired about 8 o'clock in apparently good health, although she had complained of a slight pain in the region of her heart during the day. She had been in bed but a few minutes when she called the servant. The latter, seeing that she was not in the best of health, immediately notified Dr. Torrey, who called, but nothing could be done. Mrs. Berry passing away at 10 minutes past eight.

Mrs. Berry was born in Andover about 50 years ago, and all her life had been spent here. In 1866 she married J. Warren Berry, who is one of Andover's leading business men, being a member of the firm of T. A. Holt & Co. Two children have been born to them, Mrs. Arthur N. Smith of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Fred P. Berry of this town who is in the furniture business in Lawrence. Five sisters and two brothers are also left to mourn her loss, two of her sisters, Miss Abbie Clement and Mrs. Walter S. Donald and one of her brothers, Millard A. Clement of Haverhill being well known in Andover.

Mrs. Berry had been one of the active forces in much of the good work done by the ladies of the town. Her sympathy was large, and her particular interest once aroused, assured earnest, well-directed work for any object. She was deeply interested in the work of the D. A. R. and the Woman's Relief Corps, and as a prominent worker in the South church activities her place will be hard to fill. To a very large circle of friends and acquaintances her loss will be a deep one.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon as this paper goes to press.

JOHN MADDEN.

John Madden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Madden of Pearson street, died suddenly in Lowell, Tuesday, where he was employed in a mill. He had been an employee of this town for many years, and had gone to the neighboring city only a few weeks ago.

He had been to all appearances in good health. For the past few days the heat had driven him to drink ice water in large quantities. This, the physician claimed, caused dysentery, and was the means of Madden's death. His brother Patrick was summoned from this town, and immediately went to Lowell, where he took charge of the body. It was brought here Wednesday, and the funeral was held this morning from St. Augustine's church. He was born in Ireland and was 36 years of age. He is survived by his parents, two brothers and one sister.

A HOT fire, but—A cool kitchen!

Is there no heat with a gas stove?

Of course there's heat—the very best and most effective kind.

It's heat that heats the food, and not the whole house.

It is not fickle heat. You can depend on it absolutely. You can have several degrees of heat (for several kinds of cooking) at the same time.

Each flame is as steady as clockwork.

You can time your cooking in advance if you have a gas stove.

And the instant your cooking is done you can put the fire entirely out.

BASEBALL

WEST NEWBURY 3; ANDOVER A. 1.

The Andover Athletic association was defeated at West Newbury last Saturday afternoon in an interesting game. The lack of batting on the part of the home team lost the game, although misjudgment in the field caused two of West Newbury's three runs.

Soutar was the only man to cross home base for the local team, after he had walked and stole second. Hodnett played a star game at first base, as did Hardy and Lawson. Hardy's double play was the only feature of the game.

Paid Their Fines.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Provo were before Judge Stone Wednesday evening, the former being charged with assault on Officer Newton Jaquith and interference with an officer in the performance of his duties. The latter was charged with disturbing the peace and using profane language. Both pleaded not guilty.

In the absence of Lawyer Dow of Lawrence, who had been engaged by the defense, Judge Stone proceeded with the case.

Officer Jaquith was the first witness called and he testified to going into the village on the night of July 17 when he heard a disturbance and loud talking in Provo's yard. He went to the scene and heard Mrs. Provo cursing and swearing in a very excited manner. He tried to prevail upon her to go into the house but she refused. He then caught hold of her and told her if she didn't go in he would arrest her. Here Provo interfered and in the mixup, Officer Jaquith lost some buttons from his coat.

Provo was then called and he admitted slipping the officer's hands from his wife's wrists but did not use any violence. Judge Stone informed him that was enough to hold him and he was fined $10.

The case against Mrs. Provo was then called and several witnesses were sworn. These were Mrs. Hugh Kydd, Mrs. David Bruce, James Ramsey, James Craik, George Brown, Mr. and Mrs. DeCourcy, Mrs. Shepherd. Officer Jaquith again testified that Mrs. Provo disturbed the peace by using profane and vulgar language. Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. Kydd, Mr. Craik, Mr. Ramsay and Mr. Brown corroborated the evidence as given by Mr. Jaquith while the other witnesses were inclined to disagree with them. Judge Stone said that both offenses were grave and ordered Mrs. Provo to pay $20.

Escaped With Slight Injuries.

Michael F. D'Arcy narrowly escaped severe injury on Tuesday evening by falling from a rapidly moving electric car in Scotland District. He boarded the car bound for Reading at his home and sat in a front seat. Noticing an acquaintance in the rear of the car, he started along the running board to where he was sitting. Mr. D'Arcy was carrying his hat in one hand and as he moved along grasped the railing with the other. While doing so he missed one and fell from the car, landing heavily on his back and shoulder.

The car was stopped and Mr. D'Arcy was carried into the house of Henry Gould and a physician summoned. No bones were broken and aside from a severe shaking up he was uninjured. He is now able to attend to his business.

All Aboard for Beach.

The Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. is ever new and original in its ideas, and the latest innovation is the running of special excursions from Lawrence to various sea shore resorts, the first being to Revere Beach. The special cars will leave the transfer station, Lawrence, on Wednesday, August 2, at 8.15 a. m. running direct to Revere Beach without change, returning from the Beach at 7 p. m. Cars will also leave the transfer station at 1.45 p. m., leaving the beach at 9 in the evening.

This plan is one which has been looked forward to for some time and should prove very popular. All seats are reserved, making it necessary for tickets to be purchased in advance. This insures everyone a seat, which can be reserved over the telephone if desired. No more congenial method for an outing of a small party of friends, or even a single person could be found than the trip to Revere Beach by trolley. This is one of the most beautiful rides which could be made on the cars. At the beach there are many attractions. The surf bathing could not be excelled, and nothing could be more enjoyed after the long ride through the country than a plunge in the clear cold salt water. The large State Bath House affords every convenience and those who patronize it will find the facilities for strangers unequalled.

On the large boulevard there are many amusement enterprises, including dance halls, merry-go-rounds, theatre, various restaurants, etc.

Tickets for the reserved seats may be obtained at the office of the Company, the price being fifty cents for the round trip.

COMMERCIAL

Bad Year For Ship Trust.

The report of the International Mercantile Marine company, known as the ship trust, covering the second year of its operations, was published July 18.

President Ismay.

It discloses a deficit of $1,142,097 as compared with the first year's surplus of $1,797,797. It is explained that the extreme depression in freight business and the passenger rate war are responsible for this poor showing, and that the outlook for this year is more favorable. Reports of the New York Produce Exchange showed that the exports of wheat, corn and oats had decreased 141,918,943 bushels from the record of 1903. As to the war in passenger rates, it is admitted that no permanent agreement has been reached. The trust has 131 steamships in service.

A New Equitable Policy.

It is announced that the reorganized Equitable Life Assurance society has adopted a new form of policy to check the growth of a surplus. It will be a modified nonparticipating policy with more liberal terms for holders and agents. An effort will be made to put this out in place of the deferred dividend form which enabled the Equitable to roll up its enormous surplus.

There has been much speculation about the source of the society's standing loan of $685,000 from the Mercantile Trust company, which the superintendent of insurance confessed he was unable to explain. The suspicion prevailed that this loan covered expenditures which the officers of the society did not wish to appear on the books.

For refusing to furnish information regarding this blind loan Thomas D. Jordan, comptroller of the society, was summarily removed from office by Chairman Morton. The loan stood in the names of Jordan and Alexander until a few days ago, when the state authorities ordered that it be taken up by the society. Mr. Jordan is to be succeeded by William A. Day, who was auditor of the treasury under Cleveland and has served as assistant attorney general under Roosevelt. Attorney General Mayer of New York has decided to bring suit against the old board of directors to compel an accounting.

It was discovered later that this $685,000 loan had been taken up without the Equitable society having taken any action whatsoever.

Chinese Boycott Begins.

American consuls in China reported the beginning of the boycott against American goods in five ports, July 19—namely, Shanghai, Canton, Tientsin, Hankow and Newchwang. No serious difficulty was anticipated except in Canton and Shanghai, where the guilds are strong.

Big Demand For Steel Rails.

The steel trust has recently received orders for steel rails and bridge steel sufficient to keep all its mills busy the rest of this year. This indicates a large increase in the current year's output of steel products. Similarly an increase in the sales of pig iron is noticed by the Iron Age Review of Cleveland.

P. R. R. in the Rate War.

The Pennsylvania railroad put into effect July 21 a sixteen dollar first class and fifteen dollar second class passenger rate from Chicago to New York, and it was expected that the B. and O. and other eastern roads would follow suit. This is $2 under the rate made by the Michigan Central recently.

Another Devlin Bank Wreck.

The City National bank of Kansas City, Mo., was closed July 20 by the comptroller of the currency because of the loans to C. J. Devlin of Topeka, who recently failed.

LABOR

Teamsters' Strike Ended.

The Chicago teamsters' strike was declared off officially at midnight July 20, after the department store drivers and railway express drivers had voted against prolonging the struggle. No conditions were attached, and the men are scrambling to get to work.

Foreign Commerce Enormous.

The bureau of statistics finds that the foreign commerce of the United States for the fiscal year ended June 30 was the largest on record for both exports and imports. The total value was $2,635,976,333, or an increase of $184,055,891. The imports were $1,117,507,500 and the exports passed the billion and a half mark, in spite of a decline of $41,000,000 in cereal exports.

Gum Trust Prosperous.

At the annual meeting of the American Chicle company in Jersey City the old officers were re-elected and no report was made public. It was understood, however, that the treasury had $326,000 after paying $720,000 dividends on common stock and $180,000 on preferred stock. This company is capitalized at $9,000,000 to manufacture chewing gum.

Mitchell Says Ask More.

In addresses at Scranton last week John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers said that wages do not stand still, that they either go higher or lower and that it is best for the miners to strive for more pay and better conditions, being never satisfied with existing conditions. He added, "If you get a 20 per cent increase tomorrow, I would have you ask for more." At a convention held there, a resolution of demands was adopted calling for an eight hour day, weighing of coal, uniform rate, uniform scale for rock, slate, water and all dead work and an agreement between the operators and miners.

SOCIOLOGICAL

To Stop Trade in Women.

The treaty between twelve European countries for united opposition to the illicit trade in women and girls, which went into effect July 18, requires each country to establish a bureau for the collection of information regarding this traffic. These bureaus are then to exchange the data collected, so that a strict watch may be kept at railway stations and seaports to detect any one known to be engaged in the white slave trade. At the same time efforts will be made to secure information in the resorts of vice. Each country also agrees to assist girls who have been enticed abroad to return home. Special attention is to be paid to agencies or persons advertising positions for women and girls abroad. No American country is a party to this convention.

The College Girl Analyzed.

Professor Mills of Vassar asserts that the graduate of women's colleges is apt to have a perfectly normal interest in the other sex, instead of too little. He thinks she is generally a fairly healthy and very lovable girl, who has a normal interest in school, sports, social affairs and domestic affairs, and who is tending toward marriage at the same rate as those of her social class who are not in school or college. He insists, however, that she is frequently only slightly interested in the intellectual.

The Cost of Living Less.

The bureau of labor has completed an investigation into the cost of living based on retail prices. The official report is not due until the last of August, but preliminary figures indicate that there has been a slight decline in retail prices for staple food products during the last year. Thus the bulletin issued just before election last year is confirmed.

British Incomes Analyzed.

The British treasury has issued its list of the assessments for the income tax during 1903. It shows that twenty persons receive incomes of more than $250,000 a year. Upon the gross assessment tax of $605,000,000, 433,017 people paid the tax, while 28,050 corporations paid on $1,165,300,000. From these assessments it was estimated that the pay of corporations and government officials had risen $100,000,000 in the last ten years, while during the same time the incomes from farming had fallen off $10,000,000. The incomes of property owners have increased $150,000,000, and those of professional and private business men have increased $150,000,000.

Chicago Professor Dismissed.

The fact that Professor Andrew N. Fox had been dropped from the faculty of the Chicago Theological seminary became known with the publication of the autumn roster. In an article for the Kirchenbote, a German Congregationalist weekly, Professor Fox lays his dismissal to the telegram which he sent to John D. Rockefeller inviting the endowment of two professorships with this laconic remark: "Check accepted on face value; no questions asked."

Rockefeller Gagging Educators.

The leading editorial in the current issue of Collier's boldly assails John D. Rockefeller's latest exploit with the American college fraternity. In imagination it puts into his mouth the following soliloquy: "So you criticised the Congregationalists for accepting my $100,000, did you? Well, I'll buy the whole lot of you. Miss Tarbell and Mark Hanna say that I am money mad? What do you think of $10,000,000? I will invest that in collegiate attendance and celestial dividends. Hadley is the boy that suggested social ostracism for such as me. A special million for Yale ought to make him about as tactful in the future as President Harper, or any other good, wise educator that knows his business."

Manual Training Scholarships.

Twenty-four scholarships of $300 a year each have been endowed by R. T. Crane to be awarded by the Chicago Normal schools. They will be open to young men who are residents of Chicago and graduates of the Technical High school.

SCIENTIFIC

Sun Spots Stump Scientists.

The observance of two enormous sun spots close together on the sun, some what above the center and to the right side, has caused a flurry among astronomers since July 14. The diameter of the spots was estimated to be 100,000 miles. At first they were not easily visible, but later they could be seen with a piece of smoked glass or when the sun was low by the naked eye. During the hot spell speculation about the influence of the sun spots recurred. These are the largest spots observed since 1892.

Peary's Ship Sails North.

After many delays the polar exploring ship Roosevelt finally left New York July 16, starting on her journey toward the north pole fully manned and equipped. Commander Peary went by rail to Sydney, C. B., where he was to join his ship. The surgeon who accompanies the expedition is Dr. Louis James Wolf, a young Oregonian, who has been for the past six months in the Bellevue hospital dispensary at New York. The cost of the expedition so far is $150,000.

Earthquake in Maine.

State Geologist Lee of Maine says that the earthquake which was felt throughout his state on the morning of July 15 was caused by the slipping of rock on the side of a fissure at some considerable depth, probably two or three miles, as a result of continued strain. The shock was between seven and ten seconds in duration and was violent enough to awaken most of the people from their morning naps.

Gigantic Indian Skeletons.

The skeletons of eight gigantic Indians supposed to have lived a thousand years ago have been found near the Choptank river on the eastern shore of Maryland by employees of the Maryland Academy of Sciences. The bones were found under thirty feet of sandy soil beneath the remains of a camp of Indians. Above the graves of the giants were heaps of oyster shells and fragments of cooking utensils. None of the skeletons was complete, but the bones comprise those of men, women and children.

Falling of the Great Lakes.

The National Geographic Magazine for July tells of a newly discovered cause for the lowering of the levels of the great lakes. It is the result of an investigation by Robert E. Horton of the geological survey. He has collected statistics showing the extent of deforestation, drainage and land cultivation for the state of Michigan, and it is believed that these changes have been sufficient to decrease the average flow in the streams from 5 to 20 per cent. In order to determine the question more definitely a set of instruments for measuring the evaporation, wind velocity and temperature of air and water are to be placed on Beaver Island, in the northern part of Lake Michigan.

RELIGIOUS

Irish Sectarianism Wanes.

The issuance of a manifesto by a section of the Ulster Orangemen appealing for the subordination of religious differences and the union of Catholics and Protestants for the promotion of the country's welfare shows that the day of rabid sectarianism is on the wane in Ireland.

The Golden Rule at Issue.

The Baptist Examiner again comes to the defense of Mr. Rockefeller in its comment on Miss Tarbell's reply to Virgil P. Kline in regard to the Corrigan case. The Examiner thinks she does not judge Rockefeller by the Golden Rule, as she claims, for she should allow yourself to be overreached and defrauded. The Christian law of life does indeed require the relief of bodily distress, such as hunger and thirst, but it does not demand weak submission to wholesale robbery."

Ida M. Tarbell.

Bible Study In Shops.

Frank W. Ober in the Congregationalist says that "half a million men have attended the shop classes and meetings of the Young Men's Christian association in the past year." Meetings are held at all hours ranging from 4 in the morning until midnight. A course of fifty-two lessons on the life of Christ is generally used.

MISCELLANEOUS

Sale of Juliet's House.

The city of Verona has secured possession of the house in which Juliet's original is believed to have lived, paying $2,900 when the house recently was put on sale at auction.

Accidents.

The accident bulletin of the Interstate commission for the first quarter of the year shows that 28 passengers and 204 employees were killed, while 1,188 passengers and 2,082 employees were injured. The total number of accidents was 1,187 collisions and 1,321 derailments, resulting in $2,449,248 damages.

An aeroplane designed by Professor Montgomery at Santa Clara, Cal., while being tested, July 18, became unmanageable at a height of 2,000 feet and fell to the ground, causing the death of Maloney, the aeronaut.

At 10:15 a. m., July 21, the boilers of the United States gunboat Bennington, at anchor in the harbor of San Diego, Cal., burst, causing the death of Ensign Perry and thirty-nine seamen and the known injury of seventy-six men, while twenty-one others were missing. The vessel was beached to avoid sinking.

Deaths.

Major General Napoleon J. T. Dana died at Portsmouth, N. H., July 15, aged eighty-three.

General J. W. W. Blackmar, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, died at Boise, Ida., July 16, while on a tour of the various departments of the organization. His home was in Boston.

Gustav A. Schurman, bugler for General Phil Kearny in the civil war and playmate of Tad Lincoln, died at New York, July 19. He was known as "the youngest civil war veteran."

Thousands of Women
ARE MADE WELL AND STRONG

Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Rests Upon the Fact that It Really Does Make Sick Women Well

Thousands upon thousands of American women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office, and prove the statement to be a fact and not a mere boast.

Overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine, and compared with it all other medicines and treatment for women are experiments.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished its widespread results for good?

Why has it lived and thrived and done its glorious work for a quarter of a century?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has even approached its success is plainly and positively because there is no other medicine in the world so good for women's ills.

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womanhood is not because it is a stimulant—not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructive ever discovered to act directly upon the uterine system, positively curing disease and displacements and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures, and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due. If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it will effect a cure.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration, or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It's free and always helpful.

COMMISSIONER CUTTING ON THE ROYAL ARCANUM.

Insurance Commissioner Cutting Tuesday issued the second part of his annual report to the legislature, which deals with life insurance, both fraternal and "old line" liability and surety insurance.

The reports of Commissioner Cutting have never lacked vigor in dealing with the conditions confronting insurance problems, and in view of the troublous times in life insurance by reason of developments in the affairs of both the Equitable and Royal Arcanum, he takes occasion to set forth his views even more vigorously than usual.

After recounting the routine of the office in regard to the elimination of various minor assessment concerns, Mr. Cutting discusses the difficulties in determining the condition of liability and surety companies on account of the ramifications of the business and the difficulty of ascertaining losses outstanding.

"Almost all sorts of enterprises are backed by surety companies, and as these enterprises fall the surety companies frequently find themselves carrying out the contracts of the bonded parties, thus becoming builders, mail carriers, sewer contractors, etc., and burdened with a liability which they seek to minimize by a salvage asset which, in case of any other class of companies, would be at once distributed as an altogether improper dependence for an insurance company.

"It is forgotten, apparently, that the financial strength of an insurance company cannot properly be certified to the public on unproductive and unseizable assets. It is the sure strength of an insurance company which the public is entitled to know."

The commissioner takes opportunity by reason of the prevailing discontent among the members of certain fraternal orders to emphasize the position the department has held in regard to fraternal insurance since its establishment. The department has repeatedly put itself on record, especially Commissioner Tarbox years ago, that sooner or later trouble would come to every organization attempting to do insurance business at the expense of rates fraternal orders were charging their members.

"Using the American Legion of Honor as an example, a Boston order which at one time had a membership of 60,000 and is now in the hands of a receiver, the commissioner drives home the moral in the following terms:

"It is inevitable that the rate of insurance just adequate to pay the cost for current age will be inadequate for the same person ten years or five years or even one year later."

"This is only another way of saying that the liability of death increases as age advances, and as long as that is the fact, a sum which suffices to meet the cost of insurance for age 40 is insufficient for age 50. It has taken a good many funerals to convince some men of this fact, and others are not even now convinced."

"They have seen fraternal orders start on a given rate and become apparently prosperous—at any rate, succeed in building up within a few years a large membership, and meet their death claims as they have accrued upon the members. And they argue that the experience of these first years will continue, and charge that those who tell them that it cannot be enemies of this form of insurance."

"The fraternal does not exist, nor in view of the inexorable law of nature, will it or any other kind of insurance company ever exist, which can continue to pay death claims indefinitely if it merely collects the cost of insurance for age of entry."

Commissioner Cutting devotes three pages of his report to the subject of the affairs of the Royal Arcanum in particular. He recites the history of the order since it received its charter in 1877 and the benefits amounting to nearly $100,000,000 which it has distributed to its membership throughout the country.

"But," says the commissioner, "this order like others less strong and illustrious, was started on an inadequate basis of rates for furnishing whole life insurance which its members seemed to think they were getting."

After recounting the attempts made to cope with the accumulating troubles by reason of these inadequate rates the commissioner continues: "Last year, however, the order overtook the income, and the outgo over-curred exceeded the collections to meet them by about $300,000. The officers of the order, in common with all other intelligent people who had given the subject any thought, had foreseen that this would take place. A grave responsibility was upon them."

"Two years ago they began to investigate and collect facts. They formulated what seemed to them the best plans for the perpetuation of the order, and reported these plans to the meeting of the supreme body in May last. They were adopted almost unanimously, to take effect upon new members July 1 next, and upon old members on Oct. 1."

The criticism of the older members of the Royal Arcanum because the older members are put upon the rate at attained age, thus requiring the older ones to pay for their insurance themselves, instead of having the younger members pay part of it for them, is met by the commissioner thus: "They seem to think that the fact that they have been receiving something for less than cost in the past is the same reason why they should have it on the same terms in the future, and that it is the duty of some body else to pay the deficiency; forgetting, apparently, that it is not fair to burden the young man, just beginning his business career, and at the same time seeking to protect his family, with the insurance of the old man, many of them abundant with means, while the certificates of many others are being carried as a speculation."

The commissioner emphasizes the point that the new rates of the Royal Arcanum are a little lower than those indicated as necessary by the national fraternal congress mortality tables, the standard fixed by law in 1900 for any new company desiring to incorporate in this commonwealth, and for any company seeking to do business in Massachusetts.

"If this rate should not prove sufficient," the commissioner continues on this subject, "there is still the recourse to extra assessments, for the under the statute no company operating here on the fraternal plan can operate at absolutely fixed rate, even though it should adopt a schedule based on as high a table as the Actuaries' with 5 percent interest. And this is proper, for a rate as high even as the one mentioned would not suffice to pay the losses in some fraternal tables, and now operating in this commonwealth."

"Under normal conditions, however, it is fair to say that the consensus of opinion seems to be that a fraternal corporation having at the outset adopted rates based on the national fraternal congress mortality tables and 4 percent interest, would seldom, and might never, be obliged to make an extra assessment, if due care were exercised in the selection of risks. But the right to make an assessment is in the law and must be considered as an element of safety rather than as a menace."

Commissioner Cutting does not criticize the options offered the members of the Royal Arcanum except in one case where he discusses that dealing a level premium payment for the rest of life. He says:

"A noticeable thing in the list of opinions presented to the members of the Royal Arcanum is the fact that a member can elect to pay a rate that shall be level for the rest of life. That is, he can have an ordinary level premium whole life policy, qualified only by the condition that an extra call may be made if necessary."

"This of course means that he will in his younger years pay to the order something in excess of his current cost of insurance, this excess to offset the deficiency there will be in his rate after he has reached an age when his premium will not pay the current cost of his insurance."

"This question naturally arises, how is such a member to know that the order has in hand this excess of his payments to his credit? It must be ascertained in just the same way as Eliza Wright said 50 years ago must be employed to ascertain whether an insurance company's doing business were keeping their excess funds intact, namely, by valuation."

"He demonstrated then that there was no other way, and convinced the legislature that, to omit to require it would be likely to result in trouble. Certainly the man who pays a level rate for a whole life contract in a fraternal order is entitled to know that the fraternal order is not using up this excess to pay the current costs of mortality for a class that is paying on the step-rate plan."

But it is dealing with the life insurance situation as revealed by the sensational developments in the Equitable and in other of the great life insurance companies hailing from New York and New Jersey that the commissioner waxes sarcastic and vehemently alternately.

His scathing rebuke of the methods pursued by some of the great companies and the Equitable in particular is all the more bitter inasmuch as he declares and substantiates by liberal quotations from his previous reports that he has pointed out and presented manipulations of funds with trust companies in at least one notorious instance.

"It is significant that no company incorporated in Massachusetts is made the target of the commissioner's shafts which makes it very clear that any such company attempting methods of high finance such as have been adopted in New York and New Jersey would receive short shrift at his hand."

THE CRINOLINE.

The crinoline war is still waged wordily, and women are banding themselves together right royally in protest. But I dare say more good would be done if men took some action in the matter, and formed a league binding themselves to have nothing whatever to do with women who wore crinolines. This would surely bring the majority of would-be crinoline wearers to their senses, though at the same time some men might probably have reason to repent rashness.

Though bright as the dawn is the beauty.

Not a thought shall I waste upon you (I hope I know what is my duty). What I said I would do, I will do. Your eyes may be deep as the ocean. I tell you I care not a pin.

From me you will get no devotion. Encased in that crude crinoline.

Ci never dreamed I you would den-

one. When I swore to oppose them or I.

Great tragedies thus come upon one. When little we think they are nigh. At the same time, I tell you quite frankly.

I think it's a shame and a sin. The future now faces me blankly. Do leave off that crude crinoline.

ESTEEMED RESIDENT DEAD.

Jesse Warren Tufts, an esteemed resident of this town passed away on Friday evening at 8.30 o'clock. Death came at the family home, 41 East Water street where the deceased had been confined since last March. He had suffered patiently and uncomplainingly for years fighting but to no avail against an incurable malady. He was employed as a machinist at the Davis and Furber Machine shops and worked in the card department under Foreman J. B. Marston who considered him a thorough and competent workman. The sympathy of his fellow workmen was always extended to the deceased during the years of his sufferings, and outside of the home they knew perhaps more of his quiet fortitude than any others.

Mr. Tufts came to North Andover 15 years ago and secured employment at the Davis and Furber Machine shops where he learned his trade and worked steadily until recent years when his health failed and he was only able to labor for short periods. He was a home man and was not a member of any society or organization. His early teachings led him to attend church and when able he attended the Congregational church.

The deceased was born in Limington, Maine, 34 years ago, April 28th, last. He was the son of James B. and Emily Tufts. The latter parents survive. Recently of Berwick Branch, Maine, she now makes her home with her daughter Mrs. John A. Beale, 208 High street. Mr. Tufts received his education in the schools of Limington and Wells, Maine. His father was a farmer and the son followed that pursuit up to the time of his coming to this town to learn the machinist's trade.

He married Miss Clara Roakes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Roakes of 29 Second street. The wife survives. There are also four children, Lila Belle, Emily, Mary and Jane. Besides the mother mentioned there also survive six sisters and one brother. They are, Mrs. John A. Beale, High street; Mrs. Louis Miles, Eliot, Maine; Mrs. Herbert Beale, Wells, Maine; Mrs. Clarence Marshall, Weston Junction, N. H.; Mrs. Irving Kimball, South Berwick, Maine; and Arthur B. Tufts of Berwick Branch, Maine.

The sympathy of the community goes out to the family in their great bereavement.

The funeral of Mrs. Hannah G. Collins, the wife of Cornelius F. Collins who died at the home 265 Sutton street, took place Friday morning and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends who held her in the highest esteem.

Shortly before 9 o'clock the long cortege wound its way from the house to St. Michael's church, where a solemn requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Burns, assisted by Rev. Fr. Gannary of Haverhill, as deacon, and Rev. Fr. Gannary as subdeacon.

After the liberia, Miss Katherine E. Donnelly rendered, "Take Her Jesus," and as the casket was being borne out Mrs. John J. Donovan of Lawrence, sang, "Nearer My God to Thee." Both selections were admirably given.

What the impressive rites were over the body was conveyed to the Inmaculate Conception cemetery, where burial took place in the family lot.

The pall bearers were: Patrick Collins, Thomas F. Bowery, Jeremiah Collins, John J. Fitzsimmons, Frank McAnally, and Jeremiah McAuliffe, all of Lawrence.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to express my deepest appreciation to the many kind acts performed by my neighbors and friends during my bereavement. I especially desire to convey to the sympathizers of my late husband my feelings of great appreciation of their kindness during his long illness and the present bereavement of myself and mine.

MRS. CLARA TUFTS.

THE CHIMNEY NOW COMPLETED.

The new chimney which has been in process of construction for several weeks at the Davis and Furber Machine shops is now completed. The men commenced washing the brick Saturday. The chimney is circular and stands 125 feet high. It is located in a surprise and is now connected with the factory. It will furnish the two large boilers recently installed at the plant.

PLEASANTLY REMEMBERED.

George Beale, the retiring overseer of clothing and dressing at Sutton's mill was remembered at a very pleasant manner by those employed in his department on Tuesday evening. Mr. Beale has been connected with the mill for some time and has made many friends among those employed there.

It was the young ladies in the sporting department and the men employed in dressing that gathered at his home on Farnham street, South Lawrence on the evening mentioned.

The entire affair was planned as a surprise and Mr. Beale was completely taken unawares when so many of his friends trooped in upon him, and Miss Eliza Miller presented him on behalf of those gathered, with an elegant silver shaving set. The gift was received with much feeling by Mr. Beale who thanked them on and off for their kind remembrance.

Once all had been greeted they were extended the hospitality of the home and the evening passed off in a very enjoyable manner. Musical selections were rendered and songs sung. The host served his guests with a course of delicious refreshments and before departing they extended him their best wishes for success in whatever he may undertake in the future.

The last service before the usual summer vacation at the Old North church will be held on Sunday morning. The pastor will take as his subject, "The Power of the Ideal."

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous services.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
